DETAILED ACTION

Drawings

1. The drawings are objected to under 37 CFR 1.83(a). The drawings must show every feature of the invention specified in the claims. Therefore, the rectangular outside diameter in cross-section (of the tube) (claims 8 and 20) must be shown or the feature(s) canceled from the claim(s). No new matter should be entered.

Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claim 6 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

a. In claim 6, the phrase “the portion...” and “the width of the slot...” lack clear antecedent basis since these features were not clearly set forth in the previous claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 12 and 13 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Dobslaw (US 3,092,154).

Dobslaw discloses a radial saw comprising all the elements claimed including, inter alia, a nut (e.g. above 12). See whole patent.

Art Unit: 3724

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

6. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

7. This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

8. Claims 1-11 and 14-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Dobslaw (US 3,092,154) in view of Villanueva (US 3,073,360).

Dobslaw discloses the invention substantially as claimed including, inter alia, a cutting table assembly (e.g. 18); a tube (e.g. 15); a saw assembly (e.g. 11, 12); a saw guide post (e.g. 13); and a nut (e.g. above 12 in Fig. 1). However, it appears that Dobslaw lacks a longitudinal slot in the tube. However, Villanueva teaches a tube (15) having a longitudinal slot (16) which positively defines and confines the movement of the saw guide post (18) with respect to the tube. Fig. 1, c. 2, ll. 37-39. Thus, it would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan at the time of the instant invention to provide the device of Dobslaw with the longitudinal slot as taught and suggested by Villanueva in order to facilitate positive confined guidance of the guide post with respect to the tube.

Regarding claim 5 and similar, although the modified device of Dobslaw lacks the tube having the slot T-shaped, this is one of several well known guide slot configuration known to the ordinary artisan and the Examiner takes Official Notice of the same. Thus it would have been obvious to the ordinary artisan at the time of the instant invention to provide the modified device of Dobslaw with the T-shaped cross section for the slot for the reasons stated supra, and since such a modification would have involved a mere change in the shape of a component. A change in shape is generally recognized as being within the level of ordinary skill in the art, especially since such a change does not render unexpected or unobvious results. In re Rose, 105 USPQ 237 (CCPA 1955).

Regarding claim 10 and similar, based upon the modification above, the resultant guide post would inherently include the claimed features.

Conclusion

9. Poling et al, Garuglieri, Kessel et al, and Holder are cited as pertinent art.
